

Trevon Burrell's Art and Lifestyle Blog Posting

Art, Style, Life

I don't know about anyone else, but I am F.A.D.E.D. guy living an XCaliber Lifestyle and when I say faded I don't meant I'm high off of weed or anything. F.A.D.E.D. stands for Fresh All Day Every Day. F.A.D.E.D. comes from the Faded Penguin, which is a business that makes clothes and respects the "fresh." The Faded Penguin is similar to XCaliber Lifestyle. Both of them are run by friends of mine and also are about living a confident fresh lifestyle. The only difference is that XCaliber Lifestyle is more of a blogging site promoting an XCaliber Lifestyle and they only make wristbands.

Another way they are both similar is that they both have a certain art about them. When people wear F.A.D.E.D. gear or XCaliber Lifestyle they are not trying to set a trend or trying to be swaged out. People who wear it support an art of living with confidence, confidence in themselves. People don't want to live with regrets, but live life the best way they can by trying as hard as possible to be successful and enjoy life. XCaliber Lifestyle and F.A.D.E.D. are all about people themselves and enjoying life. It doesn't matter if the person is an average person in the world or a celebrity like Chad Ochocinco, anybody can live the XCaliber Lifestyle and F.A.D.E.D. life and enjoy it.
